

What happened to a man whose only crime was trying to relieve his excruciating pain ?

Richard Paey in jail

What will you do when your parents, grandparents, or you are in pain?

You could be the next prisoner in the war on drugs

The DEA says "The Chilling Effect" of the Drug War on the legitimate treatment of pain is a myth.

This film, by the founder of the Pain Relief Network, Siobhan Reynolds, a veteran producer and director, uncovers the truth. Featuring the story of her family and the story of imprisoned pain patient Richard Paey and his family, The Chilling Effect reveals the cold, hard reality facing pain patients in the Drug War. Post-film policy discussion will address legislative remedies & impact of Supreme Court ruling on mandatory minimum sentences.

THE NATIONAL PREMIERE OF A STARTLING DOCUMENTARY

First screened in New York, see this shocker before it hits the film festival circuit.

The Chilling Effect

Pain Patients & the War on Drugs

A film by Siobhan Reynolds

"This generation's Reefer Madness." Kathryn Serkes, Square One Media Network

Richard V. Paey was sentenced on April 16, 2004 to a mandatory minimum sentence of 25 years and fined $500,000. In his wheelchair with a morphine pump sewn into his ruined back, he will live out a virtual death sentence for possessing the medicine that he requires to survive.

--Richard Paey in happier times

ADMIT ONE NON-TRANSFERABLE ADMIT ONE
MUST RSVP OR BRING THIS WITH YOU FOR ADMITTANCE
Wed. Feb. 23, 2005 6:00 - 7:30 pm
LONGWORTH HOB 1539

Doors open 5:30 -- Screening at 6 pm -- Pizza & Beer following screening at 7 pm
RSVP: (800) 635-1196 or screening@AAPSONline.org

Sponsored by: Association of American Physicians & Surgeons & Pain Relief Network